by more than 38% by 2030 (Grand View Research, 2022). This course will allow students to learn the definition of AI and how to identify what is and isn't AI, as well as the societal and cultural impacts of AI. They will become familiar with several primary sub-areas of Artificial Intelligence, and how they are applied in various industries; they will also learn about and use the AI project cycle process. This knowledge and experience will enable students to understand how AI is affecting their workplaces and daily lives, allow them to make more informed decisions concerning the use and application of AI tools, and give them a foundation on which to build further AI learning and proficiency.
